Case No.

CV 07 6050
NOTICE OF REMOVAL AND
REMOVAL ACTION UNDER 28 U.S.C.
§ 1441(B) (DIVERSITY) and 28 U.S.C. §
1441(C) (FEDERAL QUESTION) OF
DEFENDANT SMITHKLINE
BEECHAM CORPORATION dba
GLAXOSMITHKLINE

TO THE CLERK OF THE COURT:

Defendant Smithkline Beecham Corporation dba GlaxoSmithKline ("GSK"), hereby removes to this court, the state action described below. Removal is warranted under 28 U.S.C. § 1441 because this is an action over which this Court has original jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1332.

I. BACKGROUND

1. On November 27, 2007, Plaintiffs Rose Hefner as Personal Representative

1 of the Estate of Irving Hefner and Deborah Citrano Johnson as Personal Representative
 2 of Stephen Citrano ("Plaintiffs"), represented by The Miller Firm of Orange, Virginia,
 3 commenced this action in the Superior Court of the State of California for the County of 4 San Francisco. A true and correct copy of the Complaint in the action is attached as 5 Exhibit "A" to the Declaration of Krista L. Cosner in Support of Notice of Removal and 6 Removal Action under 28 U.S.C. § 1441(b) and 28 U.S.C. § 1441(c) (Federal Question)
 7 of Defendant SmithKline Beecham Corporation dba GlaxoSmithKline (hereinafter 8 "Cosner Decl.").

9 2. Neither defendant has yet been served with Plaintiffs' Complaint. Cosner
 10 Decl. ¶ 2.

11 3. There have been no additional proceedings in the state court action. Cosner
 12 Decl. ¶ 3.

13 4. This is one of many cases that have been filed recently in both federal and 14 state court across the country involving the prescription drug Avandia®. Cosner Decl. ¶
 15 6. Plaintiffs' counsel, The Miller Firm, has filed Avandia cases in both state and federal 16 courts, but only in the cases filed in California has The Miller Firm named McKesson, or 17 any alleged distributor of Avandia, as a defendant. Cosner Decl. ¶ 7.

18 5. On October 16, 2007, the Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation
 19 ("JPML") issued an order directing that then-pending Avandia-related cases be 20 transferred and coordinated for pretrial proceedings in the United States District Court for 21 the Eastern District of Pennsylvania, before the Honorable Cynthia M. Rufe, pursuant to 22 28 U.S.C. § 1407. See Transfer Order, In re Avandia Marketing, Sales Practices and 23 Products Liability Litigation, MDL 1871 (E.D.P.A.) (a true and correct copy of which is 24 attached as Exhibit "B" to Cosner Decl.). Additional Avandia-related cases pending in 25 federal court, which are common to the actions previously transferred to the Eastern 26 District of Pennsylvania and assigned to Judge Rufe, are treated as potential tag-along 27 actions. See id.; see also Rules 7.4 and 7.5, R.P.J.P.M.L. 199 F.R.D. 425, 435-36 (2001).
 28 GSK intends to seek the transfer of this action to that Multidistrict Litigation, In re

1 Avandia Marketing, Sales Practices and Products Liability Litigation, MDL 1871, and 2 shortly will provide the JPML with notice of this action pursuant to the procedure for 3 “tag along” actions set forth in the rules of the JPML. Cosner Decl. ¶ 8.

4 6. As more fully set forth below, this case is properly removed to this Court
 5 pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1441 because GSK has satisfied the procedural requirements for 6 removal and this Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action pursuant to 28
 7 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1332.

8 II. DIVERSITY JURISDICTION

9 7. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332 10 because this is a civil action in which the amount in controversy exceeds the sum of 11 $75,000, exclusive of costs and interest, and is between citizens of different states.

12 A. Diversity Of Citizenship

13 8. The Complaint names two individual plaintiffs, each bringing suit in 14 representative capacity. See Cosner Decl., Exh. A, ¶¶ 10-21:

15 a. Plaintiff Rose Hefner, surviving spouse of Irving Hefner, alleges that 16 she is a “resident” of the State of Louisiana. Accordingly, at the time this action was 17 commenced, she was a citizen of the State of Louisiana Id. at ¶ 10.

18 b. Plaintiff Deborah Citrano Johnson alleges that she is a “resident” of 19 the State of Alabama. Accordingly, at the time this action was commenced, she was a 20 citizen of the State of Alabama. Id. at ¶ 11.

21 9. GSK is, and was at the time Plaintiffs commenced this action, a corporation
 22 organized under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with its principal place
 23 of business in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and therefore, is a citizen of Pennsylvania for 24 purposes of determining diversity. 28 U.S.C. § 1332(c)(1). Cosner Decl. ¶ 9.

25 10. For the reasons set forth below, the remaining named defendant –
 26 McKesson, a Delaware corporation, with its principal place of business in San Francisco,
 27 California – has not been “properly joined and served” and is otherwise fraudulently 28 joined. Therefore, its citizenship must be ignored for the purpose of determining the propriety of removal. See McCabe v. General Foods, 811 F.2d 1336, 1339 (9th Cir. 1987); Waldon v. Novartis Pharmaceuticals Corp., 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 45809 (N.D. Cal. June 18, 2007).

B. The Amount In Controversy Requirement Is Satisfied

11. It is apparent on the face of the Complaint that Plaintiffs seek an amount in controversy in excess of $75,000, exclusive of costs and interest.

12. Plaintiffs allege that their decedents ingested Avandia, and, as a result, “have suffered heart injury, excessive fluid retention, fluid-overload disease, liver damage, liver failure, stroke and severe injury to the heart leading to cardiac arrest,” and have sustained, “physical and financial damages including pain and suffering.” See Cosner Dec. Exh. A, 34. Plaintiffs further allege that Plaintiffs’ decedents “suffered severe and permanent physical injuries, and endured substantial pain and suffering and underwent extensive medical and surgical procedures.” See id. at 51:4-6.

13. Plaintiffs claim that their decedents “suffered extensive monetary and pecuniary losses and other compensatory damages,” and “incurred and paid out necessary medical, hospital, and concomitant expenses.” See Cosner Decl. Exh. A, 42:11-13.

14. Plaintiffs allege that they have suffered economic loss, and have otherwise been physically, emotionally and economically injured, and that their injuries and damages are permanent and will continue into the future. See Cosner Decl. Exh. A, 51:7-9.

15. Plaintiffs seek actual and punitive damages. See Cosner Decl. Exh. A, 51:9-10.

16. Punitive damages are included in the calculation of the amount in controversy. See Bell v. Preferred Life Assurance Society, 320 U.S. 238, 240 (1943).

17. Given the allegations set forth above, the face of the Complaint makes clear that Plaintiffs seek in excess of $75,000, exclusive of interest and costs. See Simmons v. PCR Tech., 209 F. Supp. 2d 1029, 1031 (N.D. Cal. 2002).

C. The Citizenship of McKesson Must Be Ignored Because McKesson Has Not Been Properly Joined and Served

18. Under 28 U.S.C. § 1441(b), an action is removable only if none of the parties in interest, properly joined and served as defendants, is a citizen of the State in which such action is brought. 28 U.S.C. § 1441(b) (emphasis added).

19. McKesson, although a citizen of California, has not yet been served with the Complaint in this case. Cosner Decl. ¶ 2.

20. Accordingly, because there is complete diversity of citizenship and because no “properly joined and served defendant” is a citizen of this State, it is appropriate that this action be removed to this Court. See Waldon v. Novartis Pharmaceuticals Corp., 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 45809 (N.D. Cal. June 18, 2007); see also 28 U.S.C. § 1441(b).

D. The Citizenship Of McKesson Must Be Ignored Because McKesson Is Fraudulently Joined

21. A defendant is fraudulently joined, and its presence in the lawsuit is ignored for purposes of determining diversity, “if the plaintiff fails to state a cause of action against the resident defendant, and the failure is obvious according to the settled rules of the state.” Morris v. Princess Cruises, Inc., 236 F.3d 1061, 1067 (9th Cir. 2001); see also Hamilton Materials, Inc. v. Dow Chemical Corporation, ___ F.3d ___, (9th Cir. 2007), 2007 WL 2080179 at *1 (9th Cir. 2007).

22. McKesson is fraudulently joined because Plaintiffs have failed to make any material allegations against it. See Brown v. Allstate Insur., 17 F. Supp. 2d 1134, 1137 (S.D. Cal. 1998) (finding in-state defendants fraudulently joined where “no material allegations against [the in-state defendants] are made”). Plaintiffs specifically allege that Avandia was created and marketed by GSK; that GSK had longstanding knowledge of Avandia-related dangers which GSK failed to adequately warn and disclose to consumers; that GSK concealed, suppressed and failed to disclose these referenced dangers; that GSK has represented and has continued to represent that it manufactures and/or sells safe and dependable pharmaceuticals; that GSK has failed to adequately warn or inform consumers, such as Plaintiffs’ decedents or Plaintiffs’ decedents’ prescribing

1 physicians of known defects in Avandia; and that as a result of GSK's omissions and/or 2 misrepresentations, Plaintiffs' decedents ingested Avandia. See Cosner Decl. Exh. A, at 3 ¶¶ 22:22, 26:5-8, 27:12-14, 28:16-18, 33:25-26, 34:1-2.

4 23. Plaintiffs fail to make any specific material assertions against McKesson,
5 and do not allege that they ingested Avandia that was distributed by McKesson,
6 compelling the conclusion that Plaintiffs have fraudulently joined McKesson in an
7 attempt to defeat diversity jurisdiction. See e.g., Lyons v. American Tobacco Co., No.
8 Civ. A. 96-0881-BH-S, 1997 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 18365 (S.D. Ala. 1997) (holding that 9 there is "no better admission of fraudulent joinder of [the resident defendant]" than the 10 failure of the plaintiff "to set forth any specific factual allegations" against them).
11 Plaintiffs cannot cure this deficiency by simply relying on allegations directed toward 12 "Defendants" or GSK alone.

13 24. In the body of the Complaint, Plaintiffs assert claims of: (1) negligence; (2)
14 negligent failure to adequately warn; (3) negligence per se; (4) negligent
15 misrepresentation; (5) breach of express warranty; (6) breach of implied warranty; (7)
16 strict products liability – defective design; (8) strict products liability – manufacturing
17 and design defect; (9) strict products liability – failure to adequately warn; (10)
18 fraudulent misrepresentation; (11) violations of California Unfair Trade Practices and 19 Consumer Protection Law; (12) unjust enrichment; (13) wrongful death; (14) survival
20 action; (15) loss of consortium; and (16) punitive damages. In these allegations,
21 Plaintiffs aver that collectively, "Defendants" or "Defendants GSK and McKesson," 22 defectively designed and manufactured the product; concealed knowledge of 23 unreasonably dangerous risks associated with the product; failed to conduct adequate and 24 sufficient pre-clinical testing and post-marketing surveillance of the product; failed to 25 provide FDA with complete and adequate information regarding the product; failed to 26 warn consumers and/or their health care providers of certain risks associated with the 27 product; failed to utilize adequate and non-misleading labeling; and made affirmative
28 misrepresentations and omissions regarding the risks associated with taking Avandia. All

1 of these claims are substantively based on the design and manufacture of the product,
 2 failure to warn, fraudulent concealment, and inadequate pre-clinical testing and post-
 3 marketing surveillance. As a wholesale distributor of Avandia, McKesson played no role
 4 in its testing, marketing or advertising. All McKesson did was pass along unopened
 5 boxes of Avandia, in unadulterated form, to hospitals and other businesses in the 6 healthcare industry. See Cosner Decl. Exh. C ¶¶ 6-7.<sup>1</sup>

7 25. Further, based on the “learned intermediary” doctrine, McKesson bore no
 8 duty to warn Plaintiffs’ decedents. The “learned intermediary” doctrine, the foundation
 9 of prescription drug product liability law, provides that the duty to warn about a drug’s
 10 risks runs from the manufacturer to the physician (the “learned intermediary”), and then 11 from the physician to the patient. See Brown v. Superior Court (Abbott Labs.), 44 Cal. 3d
 12 1049, 1061-62, n.9 (1988); Carlin v. Superior Court (Upjohn Co.), 13 Cal. 4th 1104, 1116
 13 (1996). It is the physician, and only the physician, who is charged with prescribing the 14 appropriate drug and communicating the relevant risks to the patient. See Brown, 44 Cal.
 15 3d at 1061-62.

16 26. GSK and the FDA prepared the information to be included with the 17 prescription drug, Avandia, with the FDA having final approval of the information that 18 could be presented. Once the FDA has determined the form and content of the 19 information, it is a violation of federal law to augment the information. See 21 U.S.C.
 20 §331(k) (prohibiting drug manufacturers and distributors from causing the “alteration,
 21 mutilation, destruction, obliteration, or removal of the whole or any part of the labeling”
 22 of an FDA-approved drug held for sale); Brown v. Superior Court, 44 Cal.3d 1049, 1069

24 <sup>1</sup> The Declaration of McKesson’s representative, Greg Yonko may be considered by the Court in 25 determining whether McKesson is fraudulently joined. Maffei v. Allstate California Ins. Co., 412
 26 F.Supp.2d 1049 (E.D. Cal. 2006) (“[t]he court may pierce the pleadings, consider the entire record, and 27 determine the basis of joinder by any means available”) citing Lewis v. Time, Inc., 83 F.R.D. 455 (E.D.
 28 Cal. 1979) (“it is well settled that upon allegations of fraudulent joinder...federal courts may look beyond the pleadings to determine if the joinder...is a sham or fraudulent device to prevent removal”). See also Ritchey v. Upjohn Drug Co., 139 F.3d 1313, 1318-19 (9th Cir. 1998) (evidence may be presented by the removing party that there is no factual basis for the claims pleaded against the local defendant).

n.12 (noting that the FDA regulates the testing, manufacturing, and marketing of drugs, including the content of their warning labels). Therefore, any safety and warning information McKesson had about Avandia would have come from GSK in the form of FDA-approved packaging and labeling. McKesson could not change the labeling it was given by GSK as approved by the FDA without violating federal law. No duty can be found where it requires a party to violate the law to fulfill it.

27. As such, given the lack of a causal connection between the injuries alleged by Plaintiffs and McKesson's conduct, as well as the absence of any legal or factual basis for Plaintiffs' claims against McKesson, McKesson's joinder is fraudulent and its citizenship should be ignored for purposes of determining the propriety of removal.

III. FEDERAL QUESTION JURISDICTION

28. This Court has federal question jurisdiction over Plaintiffs' claims under 28 U.S.C. § 1331 and the principles set forth in Grable & Sons Metal Prods., Inc. v. Darue Eng'g & Mfg., 125 S. Ct. 2363 (2005).

29. As more fully explained below, Plaintiffs have made violations of federal law critical elements of several of their claims.

A. Plaintiffs' Claims Require Construction and Application of the FDCA and Its Implementing Regulations

30. Count III of Plaintiffs' Complaint, "Negligence Per Se," explicitly alleges that defendants violated federal law. Plaintiffs claim, inter alia, that "[d]efendants 'violated the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, 21 U.S.C. Section 301 et seq., related amendments and codes and federal regulations provided thereunder, and other applicable laws, statutes, and regulations.'" See Cosner Decl. Exh A, ¶ 55.

31. Plaintiffs further claim that "[d]efendants' acts constituted an adulteration and/or misunderstanding [sic] as defined by the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, 21 U.S.C. § 331. . . ." See Cosner Decl. Exh A, ¶ 57.

32. Moreover, Count II of the Plaintiffs' Complaint, "Negligent Failure to Adequately Warn," and Count IX, "Strict Products Liability – Failure to Adequately

1 Warn,” also require construction and application of the FDCA and implementing federal 2 regulations, which govern approval of prescription drugs and regulate prescription drug 3 manufacturers’ public and promotional statements, including all aspects of warnings and 4 labeling.

5 33. As a currently-marketed prescription drug, Avandia is subject to extensive 6 regulation by the FDA. The FDCA requires the FDA to ensure that “drugs are safe and 7 effective” for their intended uses, 21 U.S.C. § 393(b)(2)(B), in part by “promptly and 8 officially reviewing clinical research and taking appropriate action on the marketing of 9 regulated products.” 21 U.S.C. § 393(b)(1). The Secretary of the FDA has the authority 10 to promulgate regulations to enforce the FDCA, which are codified in the Code of 11 Federal Regulations, 21 C.F.R. § 200, et seq. See 21 U.S.C. § 371(a).

12 34. To accomplish its purpose, the FDA maintains a Center for Drug 13 Evaluation and Research (the “CDER”). The CDER regulates pharmaceutical 14 companies’ development, testing and research, and manufacture of drugs. The CDER 15 examines data generated by these companies to conduct a risk/benefit analysis and make 16 an approval decision. The CDER also ensures truthful advertising for prescription drugs, 17 in part by approving Package Inserts that properly outline benefit and risk information.
18 Once drugs are marketed, the CDER continues to monitor them for unexpected health
19 risks that may require public notification, a change in labeling, or removal of the product
20 from the market. In short, the CDER evaluates and monitors the effectiveness and safety
21 of prescription drugs. See <http://www.fda.gov/cder/about/faq/default.htm>.

22 35. Promotional communications to physicians about Avandia are contained 23 within, and restricted by, warning, labeling, and promotional materials, such as the 24 Package Insert, that are approved and monitored by the FDA to ensure the provision of 25 accurate information about the drug’s respective risks and benefits. Under federal 26 regulations, even claims in promotional labeling or advertising must be consistent with 27 approved labeling. 21 C.F.R. § 202.1(e)(4) (2005).

28 36. The FDA’s responsibility to regulate prescription drugs sold in the United

1 States, and to enforce laws with respect to such drugs, inclusive of the precise content
 2 and format of prescription drug labeling (e.g., the instructions, warning, precautions, 3 adverse reaction information provided by manufacturers, and marketing materials), is 4 plenary and exclusive. See 21 U.S.C. § 301, et seq

5 37. Plaintiffs have explicitly alleged violations of federal law in their 6 “Negligence Per Se” claim, and have made alleged violations of federal law a critical
 7 element of their “Negligent Failure to Adequately Warn” and “Strict Products Liability –
 8 Failure to Adequately Warn” claims. Accordingly, Plaintiffs’ claims necessarily raise 9 substantial federal questions by requiring the Court to construe and apply the FDCA and 10 its implementing regulations.

11 B. Federal Control of Drug Labeling and Warning

12 38. On January 24, 2006, the FDA announced a rule that includes a detailed 13 and emphatic statement of the FDA’s intention that its regulation and approval of 14 prescription drug labeling preempt most state law claims related to the adequacy of 15 prescription drug warnings because such claims frustrate “the full objectives of the 16 Federal law.” See Requirements on Content and Format of Labeling for Human 17 Prescription Drug and Biologic Products, 71 Fed. Reg. 3922, 3934 (Jan. 24, 2006) (“FDA
 18 believes that under existing preemption principles, FDA approval of labeling under the 19 act . . . preempts conflicting or contrary State law.”). See also In re Bextra and 20 Celebrex Marketing, 2006 WL 2374742 (N.D. Cal., August 16, 2006) (Celebrex
 21 decision); In re Bextra and Celebrex Marketing, 2006 WL 2472484 (N.D. Cal., August 22 24, 2006) (Bextra decision);

23 39. Plaintiffs allege that GSK failed to disclose certain risks of Avandia. See 24 e.g., Cosner Decl. Exh. A, ¶ 26:7-8. This allegation necessarily requires Plaintiffs to 25 establish that the FDA, which has exclusive jurisdiction over the labeling of drugs, would 26 have approved the warning the Plaintiffs allege should have been given.

27 40. Accordingly, there is a substantial federal question with respect to whether 28 Plaintiffs can claim that GSK violated state law in light of the FDA’s control of 1 Avandia's labeling and warning and its position on conflict preemption.

2 C. The Federal Interest In Providing A Forum

3 41. The federal government has a strong interest in having a federal court 4 decide several of the issues in this case. Among these issues are:

- 5 a. whether any conduct of GSK violated any federal laws or 6 regulations related to the labeling and marketing of Avandia; and 7 b. whether the FDA-approved Avandia label was false and misleading,
8 as alleged by Plaintiff, and whether a state may impose liability on 9 GSK for not providing more information regarding alleged risks, as 10 Plaintiff contends GSK should have done.

11 42. Plaintiffs' claims may be vindicated or defeated only by construction of 12 federal statutes and regulations. The availability of a federal forum to protect the 13 important federal interests at issue is therefore consistent with Grable, and determination
14 by a federal court of the substantial and disputed federal issues that lie at the heart of this 15 case would not "disturb any congressionally approved balance of federal and state
16 judicial responsibilities." Grable, 125 S. Ct. at 2368.

17 IV. CONFORMANCE WITH PROCEDURAL REQUIREMENTS

18 43. This Court has jurisdiction over this matter based on federal question and 19 diversity of citizenship, and the present lawsuit may be removed from the Superior Court
20 of the State of California for the County of San Francisco, and brought before the United 21 States District Court for the Northern District of California pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 22 1331, 1332 and 1441.

23 44. Neither GSK nor McKesson have been served with Plaintiffs' Complaint.
24 Cosner Decl. ¶ 2. Therefore, this Removal has been timely filed. See 28 U.S.C. § 25 1446(b).

26 45. Since neither GSK nor McKesson have been "properly joined and served"
27 at the time of filing this Removal, GSK is entitled to removal under the plain language of 28 28 U.S.C. § 1441(b). See Waldon v. Novartis Pharmaceuticals Corp., 2007 U.S. Dist.

1 LEXIS 45809 (N.D. Cal. June 18, 2007). See also 28 U.S.C. § 1441(b).

2 46. McKesson's consent to remove is not necessary because it is fraudulently
3 joined. See e.g., Easley v. 3M Company, et al., 2007 WL 2888335 (N.D. Cal. 2007)
4 citing Emrich v. Touche Ross & Co., 846 F.2d 1190, 1193 n.1 (9th Cir. 1988).

5 47. The United States District Court for the Northern District of California is 6 the federal judicial district encompassing the Superior Court of the State of California for 7 the County of San Francisco, where this suit was originally filed. Venue therefore is 8 proper in this district under 28 U.S.C. § 1441(a).

9 48. Pursuant to the provisions of 28 U.S.C. § 1446(d), GSK will promptly file a 10 copy of this Notice of Removal with the clerk of the Superior Court of the State of 11 California for the County of San Francisco, where this suit was originally filed.

12 49. Defendant reserves the right to amend or supplement this Notice of 13 Removal.

14 WHEREFORE, GSK respectfully removes this action from the Superior Court of 15 the State of California for the County of San Francisco to the United States District Court
16 for the Northern District of California, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1441.
